NETWORK NEWS

The next Cross-institutional DBI PhD course is on schedule and will take place in the fall semester 2020.

See more information in the Highlight section below.

Welcome back. It has been a bit quiet on the DBI front as the last months have been dominated by the COVID-19 outbreak. With the gradual opening of scientific laboratories and new digital and online solutions for meeting and interacting, we hope to have more news for you in the coming months.

As always, please contact me if you have any news you want to share or questions about the network activities.

April 2020 Highlight

We are happy to announce that the Cross-institutional DBI PhD course is on track and will run again this year in the fall of 2020. The Cross Institutional Bioimaging Ph.D. course is interdisciplinary and cross-institutional and will be given by a series of lecturers who are experts within each their field of bioimaging. The course will take place at different institutions in order to expose the students to different research groups, their researchers and experimental research facilities. The course will thus give the student a unique opportunity of orienting him or herself within an active and diverse field of interdisciplinary science within bioimaging.

General course information can be found here

Registration by email to: mfe(at)bmb.sdu.dk

Unfortunately due to COVID-19 emc2020 will not be held in Copenhagen in August as planned. Follow updates on future possible options for the conference here The European Microscopy Congress 2020

Reopening of scientific laboratories. As the gradual and careful reopening of scientific laboratories have been initiated, a discussion of guidelines for safe imaging has been initiated by members of the Danish BioImaging Network.
