MACS® Imaging and Microscopy Day

Understand nature's complexity by cutting-edge imaging and microscopy technologies

October 28, 2021 | 6:00 a.m. (PDT), 9:00 a.m. (EDT), 3:00 p.m. (CEST)

Unlock the next level in your research when experts from all around the globe come together to share their knowledge. The virtual MACS® Imaging and Microscopy Day will host leading scientists from the fields of immuno-oncology and neuroscience to present recent findings achieved through groundbreaking imaging and microscopy technologies. Take the opportunity to exchange views with your peers in our networking session and get connected with other attendees and technical experts.

As a further event highlight we will present our brand-new and highly versatile multiphoton microscope for the first time.
